DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Applicant is required to make the following specie elections:

A. Elect one of the following groups of molecules that reach a different molecular configuration from an initial configuration:

- i. Molecules comprising a membrane or other tissue barrier (as in claim 14); or
- ii. Molecules that reach a transition state in a biochemical reaction via a biochemical reaction such as an enzyme (as in claim 1-11, 19 and 20); if this specie is elected, Applicant is further required to elect one of the following enzyme reactions:

- a. polymerase chain reaction; or

- b. enzyme linked immunoassay reaction. The species are independent or distinct because the application of energy to a membrane or tissue barrier would be expected to have different outcomes compared to applying energy to an enzyme reaction. A membrane or tissue is a gross structure having a heterogeneous nature with many different types of molecules receiving the energy of the claimed process. Providing energy to an enzyme is focused on increasing the energy of an enzyme and its substrate. Thus, the requirements of energy and consideration of the types of molecules for each system are distinct.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 12, 13, 15-18 are generic.

Art Unit: 1651

B. Applicant is required to elect the type of energy:

- i. mechanical; or
- ii. electromagnetic. If electromagnetic is elected Applicant is required to elect one of the following types of electromagnetic energy:
 - a. radiant energy with a wavelength from about 200 nm to about 20,000 nm;
 - b. energy is in the radiofrequency range; or
 - c. energy is in the microwave range.

The species are independent or distinct because the application of each type of energy requires a different instrument and the frequency associated with each energy limits the degree that the energy can effect change in the energy state of the molecules.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 1-4, 9-14, 19 and 20 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1651

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
